

November Newsletter

November is a time for appreciating everything around you from family, to friends, to food, memories, and so much more!

FLY NY is grateful for everyone who supports us and our mission!

What is something you're grateful for?

Dayla Beltre

I'm grateful for my friends. I love them so much. They are there for me when needed. I love hanging out with them and being silly.

Alanie Mendez

I'm thankful for my family and friends. I have a very strong support system around me, and I appreciate the unyielding support and care they consistently show me. Family vacations are my favorite times, and even just calling my friends makes me happier. My closest family and friends will always have a place in my heart and I'll always be grateful for them.

I am grateful for God being in my life. He has blessed me in many ways. He has given me my family and friends, my health, education, a roof over my head, food, the air I breathe, and so much more. Everything I owe to him and I know he has great plans for me.

Tori Hernandez

I am thankful for my parents. My parents push me to do my best in everything I do and I appreciate them because sometimes I need motivation and they're always there to support me.

I'm grateful for life itself. I have a beautiful, supportive mother who always goes above and beyond for me and my siblings and makes sure we have the resources to achieve whatever we desire, no matter how "grown" we are. I'm grateful I have 2 older brothers who are protective of me and no matter how mad or annoyed they are at me they'll always show out for me. I'm so lucky, I have 3 best friends that I've grown up with. I've known 2 of my girls since kindergarten and 1 since I was 3 months. A Lot of people don't get to experience friendships as close as I have. I'm grateful that my father is still living and breathing on this earth. He was diagnosed with cancer and I'm grateful I can still call him on the phone even if it's an argument. I'm grateful I got to experience going to a concert with my best friend and most important of all, I'm grateful for SpongeBob.

I'm grateful for my cousin and sushi because they are always keeping me at a calm level and make me smile all the time and my cousin is my mentor so I get to learn while living.

Elise Fromhart

I'm thankful for my beautiful mother who is always willing to sit down with me and listen to my feelings. My mom understands me, we can talk for hours and sing songs and go out together and never get bored.

I am thankful for my bestest friend Hyba Figueroa. She has been by my side since 1st grade and I love her!

Hyba Figueroa

I am thankful for Savvy! For being a great friend. I'm thankful for having most of my classes with my friends because it makes time go quicker.

I am thankful for my closest friends. They are always there for me. They always know how to put a smile on my face. We have been through a lot but no matter what happens we are always by each other's sides. Each one of them has become very special to me. Some of them I have met through church others I have met at school. Without them, I wouldn't be the person I am today. We have created beautiful memories that I'll always remember. I always give thanks to god for putting them in my life.

I am grateful for my little brother. He never fails to bring joy to my life and he forces me to view things the way he views them, literally or he won't stop crying. But I'm forever grateful for him because he is my comfort person.

Jesus Aspiroz

I'm thankful for my grandma who I consider my mom. She's the one who raised me from 2 years old to 7 years old in Mexico. I will be forever thankful for her and all the stuff she taught me.

More than anything, I'm grateful for my grandma, she's the most loving and beautiful human being ever. She will forever be my favorite person ever.

Nina Chen

Someone I am thankful for is my mom. She is my best friend. I can talk to her about everything. Sometimes I forget she is even my mother cuz of the things I tell her. She will do anything for me like going to concerts and going out to eat in the middle of the night when I can't sleep. But most importantly care for me when I'm sad. She is my biggest hype girl. When people say "I wish I could have a cool mom" I am so proud to say that I have one.

Someone I am thankful for is my older sister because she is someone I can go to and talk about literally anything with. She has always been someone who motivates me to work hard. Even though she can be really annoying and opinionated, I know she will always have my back in any situation.

Christine Diaz

I am thankful for my closest friends because they've gotten me through rough times and they make me laugh everyday.

Dajanique Brown

I am thankful for my friends and family, the ones who push me to be better, make me happy, know how to get my mind off reality, and make me forget my stress. But most of all I'm thankful for myself. No matter what I go through, or how I feel, I never give up on myself. Even though I have a good support system, if I don't make it happen for myself I won't ever be satisfied with where I am which is why I never stop pushing myself. I have high expectations for myself which is why I would never stop doing or thinking about different ways for me to succeed. I work so hard and I couldn't be more proud of myself.

Someone I am thankful for in my life is my mother. She taught me a lot of things that every mother should. Without my mother, I don't know where I would be in life. She always motivates me to go for anything I want in life. Also thankful for my baby brother. I love him so much even though he is a little annoying. I'm just thankful for everything I have in life.

Stephanie Gonzalez

Someone I am thankful for would have to be my chinchillas. Only because they're the only ones that I find myself being happy with.

I am very grateful for my family & friends. My family is always there for me when I need them and make me comfortable every day. I spend every day with my friends and I am very thankful to have them in my life.

Jade Ochoa

I am thankful for my family. They have supported me in my dreams to start my dream career. Having always believed in me made me confident to pursue it.

I am thankful for my mom. She is my role model, my twin, my everything. She is my main source of inspiration and I would not be where I am as an individual without her. She pushes me to do my very best and has molded me into the self-motivated and diligent individual I am and hope to become.

Octavio Valerio

I am thankful for my mommy and my dada because they've been there for everything and my sisters. I'm thankful for my hamster, my silly dog, and music.

I'm grateful for my parents. They never gave me their back, always gave me a shoulder to cry on, and always supported me in any decision I made. As young as they were when they had me they never stepped down as parents or gave up on parenting. They raised me on their own with no help and hardly any money. They always make it happen for me. They try to give me everything and more that they never had in their childhood. Which is giving me everything I want and having supporting parents. I'm blessed to have parents that I can open up about everything and parents that also tell me my rights and correct me on my wrongs. They also gave me the most amazing siblings on earth. Without them, I would not have my annoying siblings. (Even though it would have been nice if I was the only child).

As cliché as it may be, I am thankful for my family around the holidays. The holidays offer a break from the hustle and bustle of everyday life so that families can get together. I love seeing my cousins and it's like no time has passed at all since we were little kids running around the dinner table. Turkey and potato salad are just an added benefit to the holiday season.

Adama Bah Jalloh

I am thankful for Islam. Islam really taught me self-discipline and to be grateful for everything I have, the good and the bad. It also made me a confident woman. I thank God every day for where I am in my life.

There are many things I am grateful for but the biggest things I am most grateful for are my best friend and mom who is a strong and gorgeous woman and has always inspired me to do my best and be kind. I am also grateful for my dad who has never allowed me to give up on anything and been someone I have looked up to and only want to make proud.

Jesus Cruz

I am grateful for my pets; my dog named Rocky and my cat named Jerry (Peluche). We've had both for 4 years now. I genuinely am glad that both came into my life, I know that's super cringy but I mean it. I like to cuddle up with them here and there.

I am grateful for my life, anyone, and everything currently present in my life. I thank god every day for understanding incredible parents who work hard to provide me with the best. I am thankful for my life companion, my brother. My dog provides me with emotional support when I need it most and lightens up my day every time I see him. Thankful for my friends who are always there when I need them and for being the people whom I can have a good laugh with when I need it. I am grateful for the many opportunities life has given to me.
